

Adam Lipworth, MD

Adam D. Lipworth, M.D. is a board-certified dermatologist and an Assistant Professor in the Dermatology Department at Harvard Medical School. He is also the Dermatology Division Chairman at the Lahey Hospital & Medical Center, where his clinical practice focuses on infectious disease-dermatology (ID-Derm). He directs the Lahey Skin Infection Program, dedicated to multidisciplinary care of patients with primary cutaneous infections or systemic infections affecting the skin. His ID-Derm clinic is one of the few denoted by the Harvard Combined Dermatology Training Program as a "unique clinical experience" that is required for all Harvard dermatology residents. He also serves as a research mentor for the Harvard residents.
